

Welcome to Cauldron Mysteries

Thank you for taking the first steps upon the transformative pathway of magic and wisdom. I feel very excited to be sharing this journey with you. As Priestess of Avalon, a three year journey which I completed in 2010 I have much experience to share in working within the liminal realms of Avalon and in self discovery, healing and transformation.

However, before we dive in - here's the legal bits and disclaimer.

Terms and Conditions

You will be given a certificate of completion. To achieve this you must attend all the components of the course and complete the 'love missions' (homework).

You will have the opportunity for sharing with others via a private facebook group.

Payment is in full before commencement of the course or in 6 monthly payments via BACS or paypal. If payment is not made in full - access to the course will stop.

Payment is not refundable - but after the first payment there are 14 days for you to cancel your agreement and discontinue the course.

You are responsible for your own self-motivation throughout the course and be committed to attend the Zoom online meetings of which there will be 12 x 3 hourly sessions on a Saturday times to be arranged. Remember that you are embarking on this course for yourself. This is a gift for you.

You are responsible for your own well-being. Please advise the tutor if you are experiencing difficulties during the course on any level of your being - physical, mental, emotional, spiritual. I am here to guide and mentor you.

Please disclose via email to me if you are suffering from any of the following: cancer, severe heart disease, mental health issues, alcoholism, substance abuse. Please advise me if you have any difficulties at all during the course.

I have read and agree to these terms and conditions. Please email your agreement back to me.